TRIED TO AVOID WRECK

All Efforts to Prevent Railway Disaster Failed After First Mistake.

DEATH LIST NOW TWENTY-EIGHT.

Telegraph Operator Makes a Statement, Claiming He Followed the Orders in Cancelling the First Instructions.

London, Ont., Dec. 29.—There have been no further deaths reported among the persons injured in the collision at Wanstead, on the Sarnia branch of the Grand Trunk railroad, between the Pacific express west-bound and an eastbound freight, in which 28 persons lost their lives. At Victoria hospital several of the injured are still in a serious condition, but it is expected that all will recover. The body of Fireman Ricketts of the express train, which was believed to be under the wrecked engines, was found covered with snow in the ditch beside the track. One arm was completely torn off and the body was otherwise mangled. Death must have been instantaneous.

Andrew Carson, the operator at Wanstead, the first station east of the wreck, whose failure to deliver orders to Conductor McAuliffe of the Pacific express to pass the freight at Wanstead is said by the Grand Trunk officials to have caused the wreck, has made his first statement since the wreck. He says he received the order for No. 5 (the express) to pass the freight at Wanstead at 9:48 o'clock, but declares positively that a few minutes later Dispatcher J. G. Kerr at London called him and ordered him to "bust" or cancel the order. He said: "About 9:54, after calling Wyoming and ascertaining that the freight was there, the dispatcher called me rapidly a half-dozen times. When I answered on the wire he told me to 'bust' this order. I wrote 'busted' across the order just as No. 5 was coming in. Conductor McAuliffe came in and asked me what the order board was out against him for. I told him that we had had an order for him, but the dispatcher had 'busted' it. He asked me to hurry and write him a clearance order, which I did. After the train had started and was out of my reach the dispatcher learned that the freight had left Wyoming. I told him I could not stop No. 5, as it had left. He immediately began calling King's Court Junction, the station between Watford and Wanstead, on the railroad wire, and I tried to raise them on a commercial wire. We both failed to do this, however, until after the express had passed the junction."

Carson admitted that he knew it was against the rules of the company to cancel a train order without sending a substitute for it, but said that the dispatcher was his superior officer and he disliked to question his order or dispute his authority to take this action. Dispatcher Kerr's order book in the local Grand Trunk office does not show that the order was "busted" or canceled, as Carson claims. According to the book it was still in force and should have been delivered to the conductor of the express. Kerr has not made any statement, even to the railroad officials, and will not until he takes the stand at the inquest.

Division Superintendent George G. Jones of Toronto says that the rule against cancelling or "busting" train orders is the strictest in the company's code. Grand Trunk officials who were present expressed their confidence in Kerr. Coronor Dr. Harvey of Lambton county will begin the inquest at Wyoming immediately.

Maintains Wireless Communication. Glace Bay, N. S., Dec. 29.—The Marconi station at Glace Bay continues to maintain daily communication with Cornwall, with constantly increasing efficiency and facility. Marconi is still here, but will leave shortly for the Cape Cod station. In the meantime he is sending two or three messages by wireless telegraphy to Europe daily. Some of these dispatches are lengthy. One of the dispatches was directed to ex-Empress Eugenie.

Business Section Burned. Wetumpka, Ala., Dec. 29.—Fire which broke out in a general merchandise store almost destroyed an entire block of 2-story brick buildings and caused a loss of over $60,000, partly covered by insurance. The block destroyed constituted the business center of the town. An engine was sent from Montgomery, but by the time it arrived the fire was practically under control.

Madrid, Dec. 29.—The appointment of Vice Admiral Cervera, who surrendered to the American fleet off Santiago de Cuba, to the post of chief of staff of the navy, has been published in The Official Gazette.

RAN INTO A WORK TRAIN.

Fast Passenger on the Illinois Central Wrecked—Three Killed.

Louisville, Dec. 29.—Fast passenger train No. 104 on the Illinois Central, bound for Cincinnati from New Orleans, crashed into a work train at Caneyville, 84 miles from Louisville. Three men were instantly killed and two injured. Two of the engines were demolished and the engine and three cars were derailed. Killed: Robert Stith, engineer work train, Elizabeth town, Ky.; Thomas Bell, fireman work train, Louisville; W. O. Roberts, fireman passenger train, Central City, Ky. Injured: Louis Coffey, engineer passenger, Louisville, badly bruised and cut; John Sendert, passenger, Louisville, arms cut and badly bruised. The work train consisted of a light freight engine attached to several empty gondolas, and was taking water when the passenger train crashed into it going at full speed.

Guy Harris Held.

Toledo, Dec. 29.—Guy Harris was bound over to the common pleas grand jury at his own request, charged with the murder of Anna Snyder. When asked why he made the unusual request, he answered that he would rather take chances with the grand jury, and also have his attorney's expenses paid by the state, than attempt to withstand the hot cross fire of questions by police detectives. Snyder was found suffocated by pillows Tuesday night and Harris was seen leaving her dead body by a friend of the victim. Harris accused a mysterious stranger of committing the crime. He is held without bail.

Six Thousand Houses Wrecked.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 29.—Later advices from Ashkabad say that in the country around Andijan 11 villages are in ruins as a result of the recent earthquake, and that fully 6,000 houses have been destroyed. The weather is warmer and the work of rescue and succor is proceeding with better results. The villages are sufficiently provisioned for some time, but the government will be obliged to supply the wants of the working people at Andijan until spring. No one is permitted to enter Andijan without a police pass. Even railroad employees on their way to work are obliged to show permits.

Awarded Damages For Boycott.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—A verdict having a significant bearing upon the right of labor organizations to maintain or assist in enforcing a boycott was rendered in Judge Vail's court, whereby George Hinchliff was awarded $22,000 damages against the members of the Chicago Masons' and Builders' association and the Brick Manufacturers' association. Hinchliff asked for $100,000 damages, which he alleged he had sustained owing to a boycott of the product of his brickyards at Hobart Ind., on the part of the associations mentioned in 1898.

Three Drowned.

Gainesboro, Tenn., Dec. 29.—While attempting to cross Cumberland river near here in a canoe Miss Verdi Rich, Miss Hattie Rose and Walter Rich were drowned, while Rufus Bailey and Alfred Crowder had narrow escapes. The canoe was overcrowded and when the current of the stream struck it the frail craft swerved and rocked. One of the frightened girls jumped into the water, causing the canoe to capsize and throwing all of the occupants into the river.

Wholesale Infanticides.

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 29.—News received from Yokohama by the steamer Tartar includes details of a horrible baby-farming conspiracy in Osaka. An elderly woman, her married daughter, husband and two other persons have been arrested for infanticide, and it is learned that since they started operations this year 300 children were killed.

Nate Salisbury's Funeral.

New York, Dec. 29.—Funeral services for the late Nate Salisbury were held under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity. The Rev. Dr. Burritt of Freeport, Ill., a lifelong friend of the dead showman, preached the sermon. Many prominent theatrical people were in attendance.

Will Appeal Case.

Paducah, Ky., Dec. 29.—Police Judge Z. D. Sanders has held the early saloon closing ordinance to be unconstitutional on the grounds that it was unreasonable and class legislation. The city will take the case direct to the court of appeals.

Entertaining General Miles.

Peking, Dec. 29.—The ladies of the American legation and Lieutenant General Miles and his party were entertained at luncheon by the dowager empress and the emperor. United States Minister Conger also gave a diplomatic dinner in honor of the general. The minister will entertain at dinner a number of Chinese officials to meet General Miles.

VICTORY FOR REBELS.

Ten Thousand Troops Defeated by the Pretender's Forces at Taza.

IMPERIAL ARMY'S HEAVY LOSSES

Famous Swindlers En Route From Madrid to Paris Under Careful Surveillance of French and Spanish Policemen.

Tangier, Morocco, Dec. 29.—On Dec. 22 10,000 Sherrefian troops, commanded by a brother of the sultan's minister of war, received orders to concentrate and take the offensive against the pretender at Taza. Before the Sherrefians moved upon him the pretender attacked them with large bodies of cavalry. The imperial army was surrounded, completely routed and fled in disorder toward Fez abandoning all material of war. The first fugitives arrived at Fez on the morning of Dec. 24.

The gates of Fez at present are shut; shops there are closed and the population is greatly excited. The European colony of Fez, numbering about 20 persons, appears to be satisfied that it is in no imminent danger although the situation is regarded as serious. It is said that the pretender's followers have received numerous additions since his successes. No details of the imperial losses have yet been received, but it is rumored that 2,000 of the sultan's warriors were killed or wounded. The authorities here are trying to minimize the disaster. It is declared that a section of the imperial troops sent as reinforcements deserted to the rebels and aided in driving the loyal troops back to Fez.

Humberts Being Transported.

Paris, Dec. 29.—The train bringing to Paris the members of the Humbert family, who were arrested in Madrid owing to an accident was two hours late at the Spanish frontier, thereby missing connections with the Paris express at Bordeaux. In their anxiety to avoid the assembling of crowds and demonstrations upon the arrival of the Humberts, the authorities here refuse to say at what station the prisoners will leave the train. These precautions probably will be defeated by the delay in arriving, as it now seems probable that the train will reach Paris in broad daylight instead as intended in the darkness of early morning. It is possible that the prisoners will be taken from the train at some station outside the city. At Hendaye, on the Spanish frontier the car containing the prisoners was detached from the Madrid train and side the station on the Spanish side of the frontier, and the Humberts were hurried into a French car held in readiness and handed over to the French officials. After this had been done the Spanish police retired. The change of cars was accomplished so rapidly that the waiting crowd barely caught a glimpse of the party, but it greeted the prisoners with ironical cheers and hootings. Large crowds gathered at all the stations along the line and waited for hours in the hope of seeing the Humberts.

Newsletters Injured.

Pittsburg, Dec. 29.—The golden jubilee of the Passionist Fathers in the United States is being celebrated in the monastery of St. Paul of the Cross. The first session was opened with a solemn blessing of a marble Calvary group over the altar, and a solemn pontifical mass. The blessing of the Calvary group was conducted with much religious pomp. The great crowds attending the jubilee celebration taxed the capacity of the street cars to and from the monastery, but only one accident of consequence resulted. Nine passengers in a runaway Southern traction car were badly hurt, but none seriously. Two newspaper men, John M. Eagan of The Times and J. B. Johnson of The Post, suffered the severest injuries. Eagan had two ribs broken and was cut and bruised all over the body; Johnson's head, hands and legs were cut and torn.

Act of Desperate Man.

Florence, Ala., Dec. 29.—Calvin Carson, an old Confederate soldier, driven to desperation by want, with his granddaughter, a helpless cripple, dependent upon him, gave the girl carbolic acid and cut his own throat. The girl has been a cripple from birth and was 21 years old. When found by another tenant of the house she was dead. The man is dangerously wounded but he may recover.

Conviction For Whitecapping.

Owensboro, Ky., Dec. 29.—John Webber, who was convicted here for whitecapping, has been sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. It is the first conviction for whitecapping in the courts here.

ISSUES AN APPEAL.

Powers Asks Aid in His Third Trial on Murder Charge.

Georgetown, Ky., Dec. 29.—Ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers, who has had two trials and now awaits in jail here his third trial for complicity in the murder of the late Governor William Goebel, has issued the following appeal to the public: "I have recently had written a number of letters to different states, asking for financial aid in my coming trial for alleged complicity in the Goebel murder. A portion of the press has through a misunderstanding of the facts, attempted to thwart my plan for raising the much-needed money with which to defend myself, by circulating a report that these letters were not genuine, because signed by different persons for me. It is true that many of the letters were signed by different persons, because it was impossible for one person to send them out in the limited time before my next trial, but all of these letters are genuine. I have been continuously in the jails of this state for nearly three years. My means are exhausted. The generosity of Kentucky has been taxed to the utmost in my former so-called trials. In a few weeks I am again to be tried for my life, hence my appeal now to my friends outside of Kentucky."

Minister Combs' Instructions.

Washington, Dec. 29.—The new United States minister to Guatemala Leslie Combs of Louisville, has received his final instructions from the state department. The relations between the United States and Guatemala and Honduras were explained fully to him, as were other diplomatic matters. The case of W. Godfrey Hunter, Jr., who shot and killed William Fitzgerald in Guatemala City recently, was also considered, the position of the department being made clear to Mr. Combs. The department is holding aloof in the matter, and Hunter having waived all diplomatic immunities, the attitude of the government will be one of quiescence. A new secretary of legation, probably a Kentuckian, will be appointed to succeed James G. Bailey of Kentucky, who is to be retired on account of his connection with the Hunter case.

Transport Strikes a Rock.

Manilla, Dec. 29.—The United States army transport Sherman struck a rock near San Bernardino light, south of Luzon. The transport sustained a heavy shock and some of her plates were damaged. After the accident 23 inches of water was found in her forward bilges, but was controlled by steady pumping. The steamer proceeded for Manilla under her own steam and has arrived here. When the Sherman struck the passengers on board were terrified, but there was no disorder. They promptly took their stations, with life preservers on, in the small boats. The officers of the Sherman handled the situation splendidly. Her cargo was not damaged. It probably will be necessary for her to dock at Hongkong.

Believed Fatally Wounded.

Louisville, Dec. 29.—William A. Schumaker and Chauncey Schumaker his brother, were shot through the intestines and it is believed fatally wounded by Ed Garrity. There were no witnesses to the shooting. It is admitted by the Schumakers that they went to Garrity's place of employment to chastise him for insulting William A. Schumaker's wife. Garrity claims that he did not insult the woman, but claims that the Schumakers visited the shop where he is employed and beat him with a slung shot.

"Pathfinder's" Wife Dead.

Los Angeles, Dec. 29.—Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont, widow of General Fremont, died at her home in this city. She was 78 years of age. Mrs. Fremont was taken ill on Christmas morning. For the past three years the aged widow of the "Pathfinder" had been extremely feeble as a result of a fall in which she suffered dislocation of the hip, which has since prevented her from walking. Mrs. Fremont was the daughter of Thomas H. Benton, for 30 years a senator in the United States senate.

Ponce Honors Dewey.

Ponce, P. R., Dec. 29.—Admiral Dewey arrived here overland from San Juan and received an ovation. He was warmly greeted by a committee of native officials and citizens and was escorted by them from Juans Dinz to Ponce. The city was decorated in honor of the admiral's arrival, which was followed by a procession with bands of music through the streets. Later the admiral boarded the United States ship Mayflower, which was waiting for him, and sailed for Culebra.

Tiffin, O., Dec. 29.—Rev. John P. Ruetz, 70, rector of St. Joseph's Catholic church in this city, died in Las Vegas, N. M., where he was spending the winter for his health.

OFFICIALS SATISFIED.

Threatening Aspects of the Venezuelan Case Have Been Passed.

SOME HITCHES, BUT NO FRICTION.

Protocol Will Doubtless Be Signed in Washington by Representatives of Nations Involved—Question of Blockade.

Washington, Dec. 29.—A feeling of satisfaction prevails in official circles here in regard to the Venezuelan affair, and it is the general belief that the incident has lost all its threatening aspects, and that the details preceding arbitration can be arranged without friction. The weight of official opinion here was that several days at least must elapse before anything in the nature of a preliminary protocol incident to arbitration of the Venezuelan trouble can be made ready for signature.

Germany's insistence upon a prepayment of 10 per cent of her full claims before submitting her case to arbitration, and perhaps President Castro's resistance to meeting what the allies regard as the obligations of honor, are believed to be now the sticking points. But it is hoped that these can be passed within the next few days, and it is further hoped that some arrangement will be made in the preliminary protocol for the raising of the blockade, though it is intimated that the allied ships will be kept ready to renew it in case of any default on the part of Venezuela in her obligations.

Washington having been the pivot about which all the negotiations have turned up to this point, it is surmised that it may also be the scene of the final act in the shape of the signature of the preliminary protocol, either by the resident representatives here of the powers interested or by special agents sent to this neutral ground for the purpose.

Substance of Roosevelt's Note.

Rome, Dec. 29.—Ambassador Meyer presented to the foreign office President Roosevelt's note on the subject of Venezuelan arbitration. The president says although he is very gratified at the confidence the powers have shown in him by choosing him as arbitrator, which position he would have accepted if there were no other means of solving the question, he thinks it better to submit the case to The Hague tribunal, especially as all the powers concerned are willing. The president adds that, as there is no question of national honor or cession of territory involved, after thorough consideration and in accord with all the powers concerned, who have shown an honorable spirit of mutual consideration and moderation, he is glad to be informed that they all have agreed to submit the question to The Hague tribunal.

Germany Disappointed.

Berlin, Dec. 29.—The German government is disappointed by President Roosevelt's declaration to be arbitrator in the Venezuelan dispute, but in pursuance of his decision will correspond at once with Great Britain and Italy on the subsidiary questions that must now be agreed upon, such as raising the blockade and the definite form of request whereby Venezuela on one side and Germany, Great Britain and Italy on the other, who ask The Hague tribunal to adjudge the dispute. The interchange of views on these and other requirements probably will take place at Washington, where the ambassadors can confer freely with Secretary Hay and obtain through him President Castro's assent to the preface propositions.

Take Arms Against Castro.

Willemstad, Curacao, Dec. 29.—The Venezuelan revolutionists have resumed active hostilities against President Castro. There has occurred a lively engagement between 1,200 revolutionists under General Riera and government forces at Caucayao, in the vicinity of Coro. Details of the engagement are lacking, but it is known here that the revolutionists had artillery. The government forces were commanded by General Refereno Castillo. General Riera retained his position. The armistice between the government and the revolutionists has just expired.

Is Against Castro.

Willemstad, Curacao, Dec. 29.—News has reached here from an authoritative source in Caracas that Vicente Gomez, first vice president of the republic, intends to carry out a bold strategic stroke against President Castro.

San Pedro, Cal., Dec. 29.—An entire business block in the center of the city was wiped out by fire. The loss will be about $75,000, which is about one-half covered by insurance.

With the passing of the old year, Mayeville should ring in the movement for modern thoroughfares.

With such a prudent and careful business man as Mayor Stalcup at the head of municipal affairs, the work of improving our streets can be safely undertaken.

The attempt to organize committees, as auxiliaries to the Kentucky Exhibit Association, in all counties has brought out one fact prominently, it is reported, and that is that but one sentiment exists: "Kentucky must be represented and adequately at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition." Every letter that reaches the headquarters of the association contains encouraging words. The people of Kentucky must do what their Legislature failed to do—provide for a thorough exhibit of the State's unexampled resources.

At Covington, the wife of Barton Stuntebeck was removed to the pest house while about to become a mother. She died shortly after the birth of her child, and her relatives will probably sue the city for heavy damages, claiming that the rough treatment she was subjected to, and the dilapidated condition of the pest house caused her death. When some city or county is forced to pay heavy damages in cases like this, suitable hospitals will likely be provided for the reception and care of people so unfortunately afflicted. Such health officers, too, as these at Covington should be taught to exercise a little common sense in cases like the one mentioned.

A WRITER in an article on the operations of the coal trust says:

The criminal section of the anti-trust law covers just such a restraint of trade and monopoly as the coal trust is imposing upon the American people. The administration of that law is in the hands of the Attorney General of the United States, and in each State the United States District Attorneys can enforce the law in the federal courts. Thus the whole machinery for bringing the coal monopolists to the bar of justice can be put in motion by the Republican administration. One word from President Roosevelt would compel his Attorney General to act. As he does nothing to curb the monopoly, it would seem certain that he does not want any action taken, or, for political reasons, does not wish the extortion of the trust stopped. The criminal statute would allow the arrest of the coal barons and, upon conviction of being parties to any restraint of trade, or of having formed a combination to control prices, they could be imprisoned for one year. A coal baron in jail would soon bring him and his brother robbers to terms, and the price of coal would soon tumble.

The Weisinger Tobacco Factory, of Louisville, has been sold to the Continental Tobacco Company, and will be closed within the next six months, throwing over 700 people out of employment. Saturday letters were sent to over fifty traveling salesmen employed by the Weisinger Company, informing them that their services would be no longer needed, because of the change in ownership. The office force was also cut down Saturday. It is reported, says the Louisville Commercial, that inside of six months the Continental Tobacco Company will remove the machinery from the plant and will sell the business.

Thus the country has another object lesson portraying the beneficent workings of the trust. Seven hundred people are to be thrown out of employment and forced into other avocations to earn their bread and meat; competition is stifled and the combine given a firmer grip on both the producer of the raw material and consumer of the finished product, solely that a few multi-millionaires may further enrich themselves.

PERSONAL.

—Lexington Leader: "Mr. Skillman Wheatley has had a delightful visit to relatives in Mayeville."

—Mr. W. J. Jackson, a clerk at the Hotel Rand, Cincinnati, has been spending a few days here with his family.

—Mr J. Ed. Hren, of Detroit, has returned home after spending the holidays with his sisters, Mrs. G. W. Reiche, of Covington, and Mrs. T. P. Boyce, of this city.

—Prof J. W. Asbury, of Marion, Ill., who has been spending the Christmas holidays with relatives in the county, left for his home Monday afternoon. The Professor's many friends in this city and county will be pleased to learn that he is meeting with success in his western home.

The AFTERMATH

The purse may be pretty flat after Christmas but it will pay you to look around in the corners and find enough money to profit by this distribution of bargains.

FURS.

To those whose choice of a Christmas gift was left to their own selection, or who have waited until after the holiday rush for more leisurely examination and deliberate buying our fur collection offers a wide and attractive field. Some indication of its scope.

$2.00 Scarfs	$1.00.
3.75 Scarfs	2 50.
5 00 Scarfs	3 50.

WOMEN'S WRAPS.

The passing of Christmas severs the bonds that hold together our gathering of handsome wraps. So far into the season, by frequent re-orders we have kept it unbroken in assortment and sizes. But now it is time to clear the deck therefore sharp uncompromising reductions are the order of the day. We now announce what many women have waited for—have deferred buying to benefit by—our entire collection of Women's Coats at bargain prices. This includes Box Coats, Monte Carlos, Norfolk, Semi-fitting Coats and Capes. All this season's styles, best materials, popular colors and black, now reduced for the first time. Where so many Coats are grouped together detailed description is impossible, but this is the way the new prices run:

Box Coats $3.75 from $6.50 and $7.50.
 Monte Carlos $5 from $7.50 and $8.50.
 Norfolk $5 from $8.50 and $9.

THE NEW KENTUCKY.

What Is Hoped to Be Done For It By the Exhibit Association.

[Exchange.]

Kentucky needs to be thrown on the canvas of public gaze in a different light. Her fame for hospitality is a good asset. It deserves to be made perpetual. But the advertising she gets in divers other ways brings no good results. It's high time the world forgot the State as being only able to raise crops of men with quart-size hip pockets and pistol belts. Her coal fields are unexcelled. More of the world should know it. Her mineral lands are not surpassed. More of the world should know it. Her timber districts are as fine as those anywhere. More of the world should know it. Her soil is the richest for agricultural pursuits. Nowhere is to be found better producing tobacco land, better producing hemp land, better producing corn land, better producing oats land, better land for producing all kinds of fruit, better producing wheat land, better producing barley land, better producing rye land, or better land producing anything that grows. But is enough of the world aware of this fact?

Her manufactures cover a wide field and variety, and rank with the best of their kind. More of the world should know it.

Her railroads form a perfect network of common carriers, and her navigable streams add strength to the arteries of commerce. More of the world should know it.

She stands to-day the most inviting spot on the globe for capital, and much capital seeking investment doesn't know it.

In the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis in 1904, is offered the opportunity to show the world what Kentucky has. There lies the chance to put the State to the forefront for what she really is.

While not wishing to snuff the candlelight of primitive days or wipe out one iota of sentiment that clusters around the illustrious past, still there is a new Kentucky, that is overshadowing all else. The rays of a twentieth century sun are breaking through the State's roof.

For the purpose of presenting to the world a true picture of the new Kentucky, the Kentucky Exhibit Association has been organized. The failure of the General Assembly at its last session to make an appropriation for a Kentucky building and a full display of Kentucky's products and resources at this Universal Exposition left the State without a leg to stand on in the great race for Statehood commercial and industrial supremacy. Public-spirited citizens have undertaken to supply the State in this emergency not only with legs to stand on, but with wing-tipped sandals so it may be more fleet of foot than sister commonwealths.

And there is reason to believe that Kentucky is to have a better building and a better exhibit than if the money for them came from the State's Treasury rather than directly from the many different interests deeply concerned in giving a new setting of material prosperity to the Old Kentucky Home. A legislative appropriation would have carried with it the appointment of a commission of five or more members, whose salaries would have taken about 25 per cent. of the fund available.

The Kentucky Exhibit Association is made up exclusively of men whose only reward will be the plaudits of an appreciative citizenship when it realizes the result—when the fruits of their efforts are shown to the world.

Every cent collected for the Kentucky building at the World's Fair is to be put therein, save the small amount necessary to maintain headquarters in Louisville, and this cost is reduced to minimum. Not an officer and not a member of the association gets one penny of remuneration.

D. Hechinger & Co.

Let us be brief and come to the point at once. The cause of a cut-price sale does not concern the public. It may be too many goods, it may be the need of money. No matter what the cause, the one thing the public IS interested in is the price.

On Tuesday morning we begin our cut-price sale. Every Suit in the house, excepting blacks and blues, will be sold at 20 per cent. off from our regular price. All of our Stein Bloch, Adler Bros and Garson Meyer Suits are included in the sale, consequently you can secure a suit of the peerless make of the above mentioned manufacturers at less money than ordinary made Clothing.

The stock is in such shape that everyone can be "Suited" and "Overcoated." The smallest and largest can be fitted. We want to say to the laggards, who may think there will be a further cut, that there will be none.

It is almost needless, indeed it would most be an affront, to say to our people that our cut sales are "straight." No juggling with figures, no closing the store to mark down stock. All of our goods are marked in plain figures; deduct 20 per cent. and you arrive at the CASH price.

D. HECHINGER & CO.,

THE HOME STORE.

No Clothing Fits Like Ours

Because we have nothing but that which is made to fit. Try us on a Suit or Overcoat and we will serve you right.

Lexington Gamblers Will Likely Draw Terms in the Penitentiary.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 29.—As a result of the recent crusade of the churches and representative people of the city, the grand jury made public, late Saturday afternoon, its list of indictments against the gamblers. The list includes thirty-six counts, and takes in nearly all of the operators in the city.

The indictments caused the greatest consternation because, in this instance, nearly all of them charge felony, whereas heretofore they only charged misdemeanor. Under the old regime they paid their fines and resumed business immediately, taking the risk of being indicted at the next sitting of the grand jury, again paying their fines and resuming business.

Under the present conditions, most of them stand to "draw" terms in the penitentiary, and the situation has thrown the gamblers' element into dire confusion.

BUY CANDIES

For the little ones, Santa Claus' visit would lose much of its importance should the sweetmeats be left off his bill of fare. But don't buy the cheap stuff, whose only title is a pretty name. Pure sugar costs more than is needed to bring "good cheer" to the yuletide hearthstone, you will find it at TRAXEL'S

Our confections are invariably of the first quality. That's most important. The next thing to consider is the cost. Prices here are the lowest possible consistent with pure goods. Freshly-baked cakes of our own make, Oranges, Lemons, Bananas, Apples, Figs, Dates and other fruit for the holidays. Nuts of all sorts—strictly fresh stock of the past season's growth—no old goods on hand. Elegant assortment of fancy Sugar Toys and other Candies for Christmas tree decoration. In fact, our place is the recognized storehouse of Christmas good things. If there is anything needed to bring "good cheer" to the yuletide hearthstone, you will find it at TRAXEL'S

Worth Waiting For.

James L. McCabe, in "Maloney's Wedding Day," comes to Washington Opera House, matinee and night, Saturday, January 3rd, heralded as a delightful wellspring of enjoyable dramatic surprises. "It bristles with the richest fun and most amusing of comedy situations," says one paper. "It's a good, long laugh from start to finish," asserts another; and through press notices Dan Maloney and the Widow Clancy are pronounced the most originally humorous of stage characterizations. The story and plot of the play are of the comedy-drama order. The character types introduced are true to life, and a refreshing vein of comedy sparkles through its three acts. Catchy specialties are introduced to relieve its few serious hues. The company is headed by the clever comedian, James L. McCabe, who appears as Dan Maloney. Seats on sale Thursday morning at Nelson's.

New Stamped Envelopes.

(Washington Post.)

Within a few months the Postoffice Department will have ready for delivery a new issue of stamped envelopes radically different in form from the present envelopes. Four styles are to be made, to sell for one, two, four and five cents. At present the stamp on the stamped envelope is elliptical in shape. It is intended to make one of the new stamps rectangular, another will be round, still another will be elliptical and the other will probably be square. The full details have not yet been settled. It is determined, however, to have each of the new envelopes distinct in appearance from the others, so that there will be no confusion among the different styles and shapes.
